Dear Customers,

Notice (Update)

Regarding Fake Products falsely marketed on Chinese websites under the name of SEIKAGAKU CORPORATION

On November 8, 2007, it was discovered that certain diagnostic medical devices for venereal diseases named “性病检测棒” or “性病检查子弹” were falsely being offered for sale as products of SEIKAGAKU CORPORATION on several Chinese websites. In response to this situation, we posted a notice on our website on November 9, 2007 to promote public awareness of this issue and to confirm that SEIKAGAKU CORPORATION has nothing to do with those Chinese websites or those devices.

We made formal objections to the administrators of the websites that were known to us, and lodged requests with them to remove the information on the falsely marketed products from their websites. We also notified the relevant Chinese authorities of the administrators of those websites who failed to take prompt action in response to our requests.

We have recently found that other Chinese websites are also offering to sell the aforementioned devices. Once again, we confirm that SEIKAGAKU CORPORATION has nothing to do with these websites or these devices, and wish to draw the attention of our customers and consumers to this issue.

SEIKAGAKU CORPORATION intends to take appropriate measures with respect to this issue, including making formal objections to the offending websites' administrators and requesting that they remove the false and misleading information from their websites.

We would ask you to kindly report any relevant information about this issue to the following contact persons:

Kenji Kaneko / Hideo Shiba
